

Publisher and duration of the contract	Springer Nature (2020-2024)
Disciplinary areas covered	Multidisciplinary
Characteristics of the contract	Access to all the journals available on the SpringerLink platform (Springer, Palgrave, Adis) and the possibility for authors affiliated with the Scuola Normale who are also corresponding authors to publish open-access articles.
Types of articles publishable in open access	Original papers and review papers. Brief communications are excluded.
Journals in which publishing in open access is possible	In all hybrid journals present on the SpringerLink platform (Open Choice Standard journals). Consult the list clicking on Eligible journals at the information page (Open access agreement for Italy - Information for authors) prepared by the publisher. Open-access publishing in Nature journals is not possible under the terms of the contract.
Workflow for publishing in open access	The corresponding author may choose to publish his/her work in open access only if at the submission stage, at the end of the peer review process, he/she follows the publication process proposed by the publisher on the MyPublication platform and selects the Scuola Normale as organisation of affiliation and/or utilises his/her SNS e-mail address @sns.it and/or connects from a workstation connected to the SNS network . The affiliation is verified and validated by the referents of the Scuola Normale. The validation of the corresponding author takes into account the date of acceptance of the article on the part of the publisher independently of the date of the first submission .
APCs cover	The contract does not include a pre-established distribution of the APCs among the subscribing institutions. The APCs are progressively used up until the number available at national level is exhausted.
Availability of the APCs for the current year	APCs available
Licence	CC-BY, with the exception of some individual journals that require a CC-BY-NC licence. The author retains the copyright .
Informational support	Open access agreement for Italy - Information for authors CRUI contract signed by the Scuola Normale
E-mail address of the technical referents for the contract	springer.pubblicazione@sns.it